MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION regarding Amy Jo Fregon:

Her family moved to Cimarron in 1960 where she attended school in Cimarron and graduated from Dodge City High School. She was the middle child, growing up between four brothers. Her mom taught her to cook and sew, two things that she enjoyed doing throughout her life. Her Mother wrote this about her: "Amy is becoming a young lady now and we can't imagine life without her. Amy likes to cook and bake. Her brothers like this! Several of the cookies and cakes she has entered in our county fair have won blue ribbons. She is a big help to me."

Amy was like her mother and was always working and organizing something. She learned many skills in the kitchen. She worked as a cook at Muddy Waters in Dodge City for many years until her health faded. She was active in the Neighborhood Watch in the Comanche Apartments. She kept pictures of their block parties and activities. This is where she raised her son Jason. She will be remembered by her family as the one who always sent Christmas cards, and kept track of all of the family addresses and information.
