MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION regarding Robert Parette:

Robert spent his early to mid-twenties in the Air Force as an Airlift Maintenance Specialist on C-130's, working on bases in Hawaii, Texas, and New Mexico, among others. He later worked alongside his father and brother as a molder for the Norton, Saint Gobain company for over 25 years.

Robert was an avid golfer his whole life, and was consistently one of the best players in his company's weekly golf league. His favorite local course was Holden Hills, and he also enjoyed frequently playing at Green Hill, Pakachoag ("Pack-a-helmet"), Leicester Country Club, and Clearview ("ClearRock").

Robert adored going to the casino with his father, brother, and son for dog racing, horse racing, and keno. Following a casino visit, he often loved to go to local bars and restaurants with his brother William and his best friend Sally Maloney to explain just how close he was to winning.

If Robert wasn't on the golf course or at the casino, he could often be found under a car doing repairs or on the couch watching Fox News or sports. He dedicated his life to always doing what was right and providing for his family. He played and excelled at many sports growing up, and adored teaching and playing sports with his son, Zachary throughout his fatherhood.
